Everbearing Strawberry Plants Bear Until Frost.
$1 per doz., $5 per 100. Don't fail to try them. They are great.

FALL PLANTING IS BEST

This catalogue contains anything you want—trees, plants, berries, and bulbs—best planted in the fall. Get busy, look it over carefully, and send in your order at once. Then prepare your ground well for your trees, plants, and a few nice beds for early flowering bulbs. As a rule, there is time to plow for fall while ground is in good condition. Then, in early spring, when the weather warms up, your trees and plants will start. They have established themselves well, over winter, ground well packed about the roots that are calloused, and, too, will withstand a drouth should it be in late spring or early summer.

It is also a good plan to mulch trees and plants during the winter with coarse stable manure, straw, corn stalks—anything to shade the ground and hold moisture.

Should your stock reach you in a frozen state of condition, don't get scared. Put your bale or box in the cellar for four or five days, then unpack carefully, then plant if ground is in good shape. If not, select a well drained dry spot, dig a trench deep enough to hold roots, slope trees on an angle of thirty degrees, cover well up on the body, be careful not to crowd and so on till all are healed. Then at any time when the ground is fit, plant. It does not matter what month, if ground is good. If not, wait and plant as early in spring as weather permits and ground will work. But always plant on receipt of stock, if possible.

Order Early—Don't delay till you want to plant. We will ship as soon as we can, and proper time for planting. We are just as anxious to get stock to you quickly and promptly as you are to get it. It's to our interest as well as to yours.

Our Location—Eaton, Ohio, Preble County. Our happy home. Fifty-eight miles from Cincinnati, on Pennsylvania Railroad, also Ohio Electric Railroad; twenty-four miles from Dayton, and sixteen miles east of Richmond, Indiana.

References—Eaton National Bank, Preble County National Bank, State Bank, Moscow, Ohio. Any business or merchant here, or mercantile agency.

We Ship by Freight, Express, and Parcel Post in October and continue on till hard freezing weather sets in.

We do not replace trees and plants that fail to grow. But will guarantee same to leave us in good condition, thrifty, healthy, and free from disease. Should any complaint be made, same must be on receipt of stock, which we will make right with other stock or money refunded, should this be necessary.

Certificate of State Nursery Inspection is attached to all shipments. All stock fumigated when State requires it.

Our Liability—We use great care to avoid mistakes; use best of help in filling and packing orders. Should any mistakes occur, we stand ready to replace stock not true to name, if proper proof, but will not be liable for a greater sum than the invoice price of the stock.

Our Packing is done in best possible manner, in boxes and bales, using straw, moss and excelsior.

Our Terms are cash with order. Remit by Post Office or Express Money Order, Registered Letter, Bank Draft, or Check.

Please write your name, post office, freight station, and express office very plain, so no mistakes will occur. Use order sheet and fill out properly and plain.

If your friends or neighbors want a catalogue, send us their names and post office address. If you do not want to order this fall, do us a favor by handing it to a neighbor who may. If you want to order for spring, send your order on and be on the ground floor for early shipment.

Our Spring Catalogue will be ready about January, with a complete list of what we grow, and we will have a fine lot of seed corn, potatoes, etc., at prices that are reasonable so you can afford to buy.

We would like to hear from you, even if you do not place an order now. With a new name added with your order, we know that you appreciate our catalogue. Give us an order, though it be small, we appreciate it, we do, and we know it will repay you many times with the joy you derive from the benefits. Our new catalogue will be the best out and you want to be sure to get one.

None better than Ohio grown; few can grow as good.

Some ask for lower prices. Stop and think a moment. Our prices are only half asked by agents, and, too, this stock is grown on the very best land, valued at $200 and $300 per acre. Labor is high, living expenses are high. If we could sell cheaper, we would gladly do so, but for as good stock as can be grown of the finest fruits, these prices are low, and you can depend on good stock. If not, return to us on receipt of same and get your money back. We do not want any displeased customers; can't afford any.

We have something for everybody. It is the best at low prices for staple articles. We want an order from all who receive this catalogue. Don't delay; send us your's if only for a dollar. We appreciate it and so will you.

PEACHES

Peach Trees—This is one of our specialties, of which we sell in large quantities, on account of our fine stock, low prices, and select list of varieties for all territories where peaches will grow. These are budded on the best seedlings—seeds gathered in the mountains of North Carolina and Tennessee. Buds are taken from the most vigorous trees and show best bearing strains. Free from disease. These do well planted in fall.

QUINCES

Quinces can be planted in low, heavy soils, damp and foggy, where no other fruit will thrive. What fruit is better liked and has the fine flavor as that of the quince? None. Try quince honey, jelly, preserves, or, flavor other fruits with quince—it has no equal. Still, many have no quinces. Plant a few this fall, sure.

The varieties we name are the very best.

Almond Hard Shell—A fine variety with large, sweet, plump kernel; very showy and ornamental.

Almond Soft or Paper Shell—This is the more desirable wherever it will succeed, but is not quite so hardy as the other; not so large, sweet and rich.

Black Walnut—This is the most valuable of all our timber trees; a rapid grower, producing large nuts; the lumber is prized almost as much as mahogany.

Butternuts or White Walnut—A fine tree producing a large, longish nut.

American Sweet Chestnut—A valuable tree, both useful and ornamental.

Spanish Chestnut—A more handsome tree than the American, producing abundantly, very large nuts that find a ready market.

Japanese Chestnut—A dwarf grower; commences bearing when 2 or 3 years old; nuts very large and good.

Filbert's English—Almost a shrub; very hardy and succeeds in almost all soils; nuts are in great demand, very rich and sweet.

Hickory, Shell Bark—A tree of sturdy growth and the wood is highly prized; nuts of a rich flavor excelled by none.

Pecan—This is a species of hickory nut of tall growth which bears abundantly; its shell is very thin and the kernel sweet and delicious.

RASPBERRIES

The collection we offer is a choice one. While not so many are planted in the fall, those that do plant in the fall and mulch carefully, are certainly well rewarded with the results the first year. We dig and ship raspberries just as soon as well ripened—about the first of November.

We offer for the first time the Texas Ever-queen, which was found on the Congo River, in Africa, a few years ago, and was brought to the coast by a man named Texas. It is a strong grower, very hardy, and claimed to be the only ever-bearing blackberry known.

The bloom is white, as large as a silver dollar. The berries are a brick red when green, and when ripe, a jet black and as large as an English walnut; very sweet, no core or seeds. A fine shipper, also a fine table and canning berry. The plants are grown from sucker or root cuttings. It is absolutely the best blackberry grown from a commercial standpoint.

These are the claims and description given us by the growers where we secured our supply of plants. Will give our report after we give them a thorough trial. We believe it will pay to give them a trial, if only a few plants. Our supply is very limited.

Price 20c each; $2.00 per doz; $16.00 per 100.

Jones White Prolific Corn

Grandest corn novelty of the day, and we believe one of the best silo corns that grows. Stalks bear from three to nine ears. It seems impossible and one can hardly believe it to be a fact unless seen.

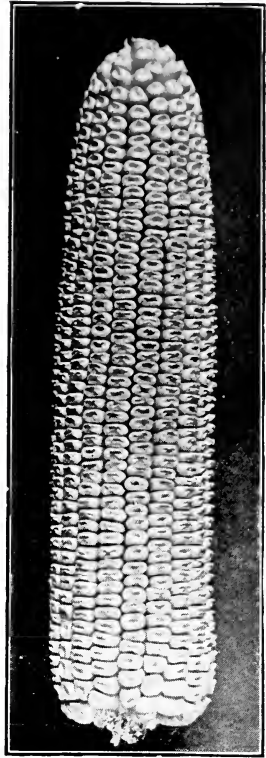

Easton C. Jones has done for the corn grower what Burbank did for the potato. He has introduced a new variety of white field corn that has yielded as much as 180 bushels per acre. He claims it is nothing uncommon for one stalk to produce seven to nine ears. The stalks are heavy and grow from twelve to fourteen feet high, with wide blades, making one of the best silo products grown. It is claimed that seven acres of this corn, in 1912, filled a 125-ton silo. This is about twice as much as the ordinary corn makes.

It will mature well from Mississippi to Michigan, a test showing it to be well adapted to a large range of soils and climates. This seed we offered for the first time last spring, and we did not have enough to supply the demand. We are promised a nice lot for this fall and next spring orders. We will be able to say more about this corn in our spring catalogue from our own experience, as at this date, July, we can not say. This corn is also delicious to eat when in roasting ears, by adding a little sugar.

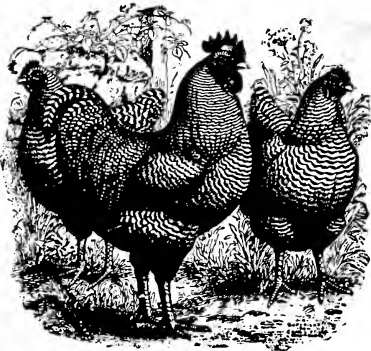

We will not have a big supply to offer, so order early and be sure to get a start and give it a trial. We are anxious to see it tried in all parts of the country by our customers.

Per ear, 25c, post paid.
Per quart, 25c, and 5c extra for postage.
Per peck, $1.50.
Per bushel, $5.00

Can supply either shelled or on ear.

Barred Plymouth Rocks

We offer for immediate shipment, a fine lot of our famous Ernst Strain of Barred Rock Cockerels and Hens. These we have bred up for many years, sparing neither pains nor expense. Our flock is unsurpassed. We do not offer you different pens at different prices. We offer you from one pen, the best pen at one price, and a low one at that. We think the Barred Rock the best and most popular chickens grown, good friers, good layers, and always command the highest prices in the market.
